CONFIRMING THE FAITH OF ADOLESCENTS

Kieran Sawyer, S.S.N.D.

High School/Adult

Essential for Confirmation

The "whats, whys, and hows" of preparing confirmation candidates are presented clearly and fully in this practical program. It is a "must" for those who prepare adolescents for confirmation.

Part 1, which consists of three half-hour segments, is directed to the adults responsible for planning and implementing such a program. Believing that Christians must constantly confirm their faith throughout their lives, Sister Kieran offers practical advice on how to help adolescents deepen their awareness of and response to God, strengthen their sense of belonging in the Christian community, and understand and accept the role of the church in their lives.

Part 2, with three half-hour segments, offers actual demonstrations with a group of teens. Sister Kieran challenges the teens to say "yes" to a personal relationship with God and to the Christian values of family and parish. She guides them in an analysis of their own desire to be part of the Christian community, and leads them in meditation on the Holy Spirit.

WHAT IS MINISTRY?

Richard P. McBrien
High School/Adult

Essential for Leadership Development

What Is Ministry?

The call to ministry, that call for church members to assist in the fulfillment of the church's mission, exists in every community of faith. Yet how this call is answered, and how the service is carried out, should be of great concern to Christians everywhere.

Within this series, viewers learn how to evaluate, encourage, and expand the various ministries in their parishes. Filled with helpful guidelines, the program is one of the most popular that Father McBrien has offered to church groups across the country.

Since there are many ways to serve the church, Father McBrien offers a list of criteria to help church members decide how they can best use their talents to further the mission of the church. This program will help you select and train lay ministers.

Titles of the three 30-minute segments are:

- Toward a Definition of Ministry
- The Notion of Ministry in the New Testament and in Current Theology
- What Does It Take to be a Minister Today?

EXPERIENCING PRAYER AND THE MASS

Essential for a Deeper Appreciation of the Mass

Mark Link, S.J.
High School/Adult

Noted religious educator Mark Link explores the three dimensions of our humanity—personal, interpersonal, and communal—as the foundation for spiritual growth and a deeper prayer life in this informative series.

Here is an answer to the universal need that Christians feel for help in learning how to pray. Link sees the gospels as the best source for that learning, and in this series we benefit greatly from his lifelong study of gospel prayer.

Link first opens our eyes to the many ways we can pray alone, shows us how to minimize distractions, then illustrates some effective methods of small group prayer.

The main focus of the series is the Mass. Exhorting us to value the Mass as a joyous celebration of Jesus' gift of self, Link offers an in-depth look at the parts of the Mass, explains the role of the Bible in liturgy, and illustrates several ways to listen as we attend church.

Personal and Small Group Prayer includes three topics:

- We Go Off Alone • We Explore, Enjoy, and Converse
- We Support One Another

EXPERIENCING JESUS: His Story

Mark Link, S.J.
High School/Adult

This portrait of Jesus drawn from the Gospels brings the world's greatest story to life. It is more than Jesus' story—it is an experience of Jesus and the times in which he lived.

For Link, Scripture is vivid and alive—it pulsates with a strong sense of reality and he is able to convey that sense of "eyewitness" experience. Viewers will learn how to draw on their own personal knowledge of Jesus and his teachings, then deepen that experience by reflection.

- Reality of Jesus • Book of Jesus • Portraits of Jesus (includes three study guides with reproducible activities and three transcripts)

THE CHALLENGE OF PEACE

Bishop Thomas Gumbleton
High School/Adult

Calling the nuclear arms race "the most dangerous moral issue of our day," Bishop Thomas Gumbleton presents a clear, concise overview of the Bishops' Peace Pastoral. He sets out to make Christians think and care about the choices confronting us—choices that will determine not only the future of our planet but also our spiritual well-being.

As a member of the committee that drafted the Pastoral Letter, Gumbleton is well-qualified to give us an inside view of the research and discussions that went into its creation. He places special emphasis on the questions of conscience involved in the issue.

Viewers will find that careful consideration of the program will enable them to read the pastoral letter more easily and use it as a means for conscience formation.

Reverence for Life

John Powell, S.J.
High School/Adult

Reverence for Life

Among those in our public media, our courts, and our medical practice, many are pushing relentlessly to destroy our traditional Judeo-Christian "Respect for Life" ethic. They would have it replaced by a utilitarian principle called the "Quality of Life" ethic. According to this ethic, no one has a right to life if his or her life does not meet preordained quality standards. No one would be allowed to live if he or she would be a serious burden to the rest of us. One such advocate has proclaimed that a trained animal is worth more than a handicapped human child. He insists that there is nothing special about human life.

John Powell believes that each and every one of the human family is made in God's image and likeness. Each of us is an "original by God." There are no carbon copies. Each is sent into this world with a special message to deliver, a special song to sing, a special act of love to receive and bestow.

In this three-part series, John Powell exposes the historical roots and the present-day push to destroy our traditional reverence for human life. He describes the legal and medical efforts to replace it with the pragmatic "Quality of Life" ethic. He projects the consequences if we fail to stand up now and be counted for life. The offense of being "unwanted" or "unproductive" will be capital; the punishment will be death.

Powell suggests things that all of us can do to preserve our heritage, which accepts the sovereignty of God and acknowledges the sacredness of human life.

FAITH: The Search for God

John Powell, S.J.
High School/Adult

Faith:
Search for God

Filled with personal experiences, Powell delves into the notion that God is not too hard to believe, but almost too good to believe.

Powell challenges viewers with a provocative question: "Do you really want to be close to God?" He then suggests ways to deepen our faith: by keeping scripture close to heart, by getting in touch with our prejudices, and by going beyond ourselves in giving love.

An ever-increasing audience has heard noted author, lecturer, and TV/video personality Father John Powell in talks and seminars throughout the country. More than 10 million of his books have been sold.

There are five 30-minute segments entitled:

- Faith: The God Connection
- Faith: A Comfort and Challenge
- Faith: God's Gift
- Faith: A New Vision

HELPING YOUNG PEOPLE GET READY FOR MARRIAGE

Charles Gallagher, S.J.

High School

"The issue of marriage is not so much to find the right partner; it's to be the right one." With those words, Charles Gallagher addresses an important aspect of young people's religious education: marriage preparation.

Drawing on his extensive association with Marriage Encounter and the Christian Family Movement, Father Gallagher brings young adults to realize that they must prepare for marriage as carefully as they prepare for careers. He guides them through an examination of their self-concepts, their family relationships, their goals, and their beliefs about God's place in marriage.

Gallagher's technique for audience involvement is the "Hope Book," in which the young people record their thoughts, questions, and attitudes about marriage. The students are then urged to use the book as a springboard for discussions with their parents and friends.

The series consists of three 30-minute segments.

THE GOOD NEWS ABOUT SEX: Positive Guidance for Youth

David Knight

High School/Adult

Here is a whole new perspective for young people on the issue of sex. This frank look at sex as a human experience puts its emphasis on the value of sexual expression. Father Knight is very clear and credible in answering the perennial question of young people, "Why wait until marriage?"

This series is based on Father Knight's career-long association with young people. He is most effective in helping them feel good about themselves and their sexuality. Knight urges young adults to place a high value on their sexual expression, holding up for them a realistic, attainable ideal of sexual purity based on the teachings and grace of Jesus.

Here is an excellent program on a tough subject. Father Knight captures the attention of young adults when he asks some sensitive questions. This program is appropriate for teen viewers in school or CCD classes, and for parents, teachers and clergy. You will find it invaluable in helping young people stand up for Christian values in the face of contrary cultural trends. The series consists of three 30-minute segments.

CORNELIUS

David C. Phipps

Give a lift to your scripture course with this new and unusual collection of cartoons, each one a witty comment on living life as a Christian.

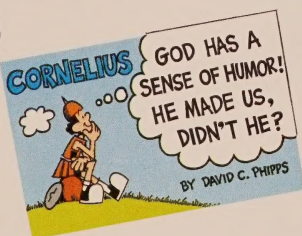

Readers will delight in the humorous adventures of Cornelius, a lovable, steadfast Christian soldier who courageously keeps—and shares—his faith while dealing with life's struggles. Order several classroom copies because students will read Cornelius as avidly as they do their favorite comic strip.

Included in the 8 1/2" x 5 1/2" book are 100 cartoons, each accompanied by an appropriate scripture passage.

"Through a masterful blend of humor, inspiration, and instruction, Phipps gives us a refreshing approach to everyday Christianity. In the end we have a better understanding of ourselves and our relationship to God."

UNDERSTANDING TEENAGERS:

A Guide for Parents

James J. DiGiacomo, S.J.,
and Edward Wakin, Ph.D.
High School/Adult

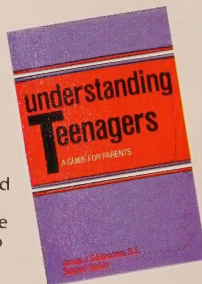

The constant tug-of-war between generations has its roots in a broad range of issues. Understanding Teenagers deals frankly with those issues, then goes beyond them to explore the forces that influence teens today.

"Understanding Teenagers is an excellent resource for the parents of teenagers. The authors present and address a broad range of issues important to growing adolescents and pertinent to their parents. Their frank, yet sensitive, treatment of the crucial teenage years would benefit any parent. I highly recommend this book."

Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C.
President, University of Notre Dame

CALLED TOGETHER: The Meaning of Mass for Teens

Poster Kit by Greg Dues Jr./Sr. High

"If going to church on Sunday is meant to be an important experience for youngsters (rather than a fearful law to be kept), then they must have the opportunity to talk about it, ask questions about it, express their good and bad feelings. These materials do that very well." Says Bishop Ken Untener of Saginaw, Michigan. Educators see Called Together as an effective program for reaching young people.

This new poster kit offers young people an opportunity to look at Sunday worship.

The materials for five sessions include five full-color posters and a teacher guide containing resource essays, suggested activities, a role-play script, poster activities, and 10 reproducible worksheets.

POSTERS FOR SPE

Many teachers like to buy certain posters in bulk for their students and for other teachers. Here's a great opportunity for you to purchase Argus' most popular posters in economical packs of 25.

Educators have long appreciated the quality and wide range of choice available from Argus. Years of experience have proven posters to be a valuable resource. David Laird, Assistant principal of a Louisiana high school recently described his students' enthusiasm when Argus posters were distributed as keepsakes of a retreat, "All agreed that the posters helped make the retreat a memorable one. Many students asked their classmates to autograph them, and said they planned to take the posters with them to college."

COME FOLLOW ME: An Invitation to Young People

Poster Course by Brennan Hill Jr./Sr. High

Here is a new idea and a change of pace for your youth ministry program.

With Come Follow Me students read the thought-provoking essays written on the backs of six, full color Argus Posters. The essays are lively and interesting, written precisely for young adults, and based on real-life situations. After class, students are encouraged to take the poster home, where it will serve as a reminder of each lesson.

There are six themes, each one teaching a specific objective:

Self-esteem demonstrates that each person is valuable and lovable in God's eyes.

Church community imparts the sense of friendship and belonging that is such an important part of church life.

Gospel message examines the teachings of Jesus to give us meaning for our lives today.

Prayer explores the "when," "how," and "why" of listening and speaking to God so that young people can have greater confidence in their own approach to prayer.

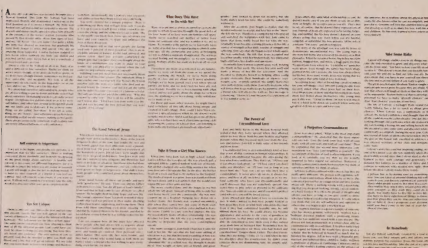

Celebration encourages participation in church worship.

Service prompts individuals to use their special gifts and talents to serve others.

Each classroom pack contains 15 colorful 14" x 21" posters to hand out. The teacher guide contains discussion questions, scripture references, ideas for journal writing, suggested activities, and a list of film and print resources. A welcome change of pace in school curriculum, the program is also ideal for CCD.

POSTER #4389

What is man
that you should be mindful of him,
or the son of man
that you should
care for him?
You have made him
little less than the angels
and crowned him
with glory and honor.
You have given him
rule over the works
of your hands,
putting all things
under his feet.

Psalms 8:5-7

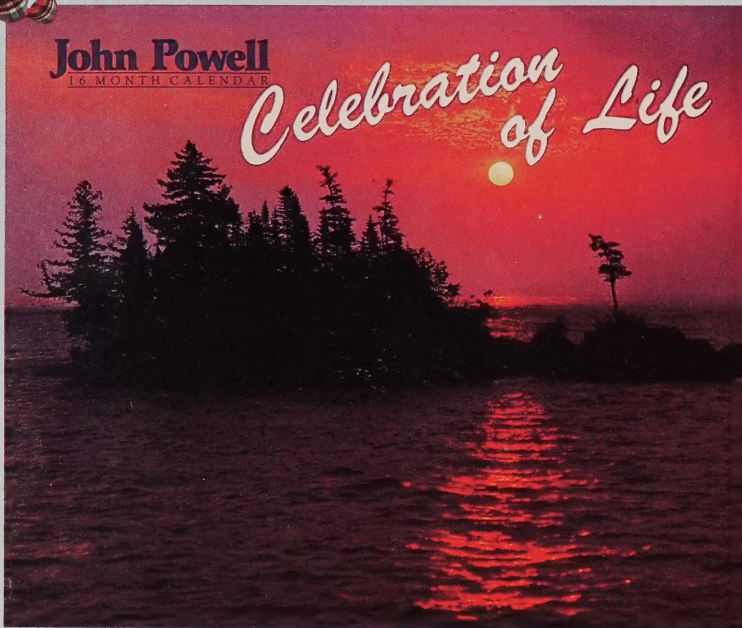

As you celebrate this special season of joy, Argus can help you express appreciation to all those who make your community a brighter and better place. Give an Argus gift—a poster, a calendar, or a pack of greeting cards—to all those staff members, students, teachers, and volunteers who helped you spread the Light.

GETTING TO KNOW JESUS

The colorful world of Jesus — where he worked and laughed and loved and played—comes dramatically to life for youngsters in this new program called Getting to Know Jesus. The program revolves around a sensitively told, beautifully illustrated storybook that encourages children to use all of their senses to gain an understanding and love of Jesus and his teachings. More exciting still—because of the dramatic impact and lasting effect they will have—are the accompanying activities that make the program so unusual and so effective. Students will see, hear, and touch—even taste and smell—their way into new understanding and attitudes.

Grade level: K-3

by Patricia Brennan-Nichols

Student Book:

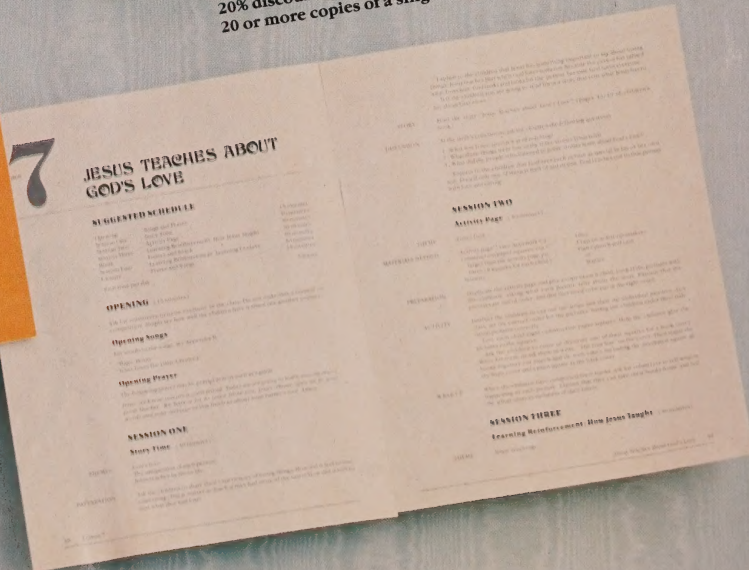

Ten stories span Jesus' lifetime—his birth, his childhood and youth, and his ministry. Told in the immediacy of the present tense, the stories invite children to participate in the action and drama of Jesus' day. Captivating four-color illustrations invite lively discussion.

Teacher Guide:

Each lesson in the guide revolves around a story in the student book. Suggested "hands-on" activities—such as games, role-play, preparing and enjoying foods such as Jesus might have eaten, and cutting out "faith angels," carry through the story themes, ideas, and symbols and encourage creative self-expression. Songs and prayers are provided for session openings and closings, with additional songs and suggestions for prayers listed in an appendix.

20% discount on book orders for 20 or more copies of a single title.

COMPLETE VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PROGRAM

EXPERIENCING PRAYER THREE SETTINGS

by Mark Link, S.J.

From his secluded wilderness cabin at Walden Pond, naturalist-philosopher Henry David Thoreau wrote of his solitary lifestyle: "I have three chairs in my house: one for solitude, two for friendship, and three for society."

His was an astute comment on the human personality, one drawn on and enlarged by noted scripture authority Mark Link in a new video and book series entitled Experiencing Prayer: Three Settings.

Just as Jesus himself drew on these three human dimensions—personal, interpersonal, and communal—in his prayer life, so must we, Mark Link maintains. Not only are our psychological needs met when we relate to ourselves, to other individuals, and to the community of our fellow humans, but we grow in spirituality; the author tells us when we pray personally, interpersonally with family and friends, and communally, in a group.

Experiencing Prayer is filled with practical suggestions for Christians seeking to deepen their prayer lives.

There are three 30-minute segments presented on each of two cassettes. Titles are:

Personal and Small Group Prayer:

- We Go Off Alone • We Explore, Enjoy, and Converse
- We Support One Another

Communal (Liturgical) Prayer:

- We Gather • We Listen
- We Break Bread and Go Forth

by Richard P. McBrien

Many viewers will recognize Father McBrien as an on-the-air commentator on Catholic events broadcast by CBS Television. Chairman of the theology department at Notre Dame University, he is an award-winning author acclaimed for his writing and teaching.

Discovery, recovery: those two needs were the impetus for this compelling new series on the Catholic faith. Father McBrien saw a need for younger Catholics to discover the rich religious tradition into which they were born. Middle and older generation Catholics, he feels, have a different need: to recover that tradition, once learned but marvelously transformed since Vatican II.

McBrien's enthusiastic approach to the Catholic tradition makes learning about Catholicism interesting, enjoyable, and easy-to-follow. Areas covered in the series include:

- a historical concept of how Catholic beliefs were developed
- the three characteristics that make Catholicism unique among the Christian traditions
- a view of Catholicism as a universal religion whose primary truth is the divinity of Jesus Christ and the proclamation of the gospel

Ideal for use in an informal, small-group home setting, this video series can help Catholics of all ages nourish and renew their commitment to the mission of the church.

Titles of the nine 30-minute segments are:

- Fundamentals of Catholicism
- Catholicism and Authority: A Look at Faith, Theology, & Doctrine
- Catholicism and the Human Person: A Look at Nature, Grace, & Sin
- Catholicism's Understanding of God

CHRISTIAN
WARM,
PERSONAL,
POWERFUL

High School/Adult

by James J. DiGiacomo, S.J., and Edward Wakin, Ph.D.

Of all the things that teenagers need to know, the most important—and most difficult—is themselves.

For parents, too, the challenge to understand what's going on in their adolescents' lives is often a frustrating one. Understanding Teenagers takes up that challenge on behalf of both teens and concerned adults.

Here, in candid conversation, are teens and parents delving into all the major issues that confront young people today: alcohol, drugs, freedom, authority, sexuality, religion, rebellion, and peer pressure.

The authors are well qualified to conduct this in-depth look at contemporary youth. Father DiGiacomo is a teacher at Regis High School in Manhattan and a lecturer on the challenge of reaching teenagers. Professor Wakin, who teaches communications at Fordham University, writes widely on religion, morality, and the problems of young people.

The video program shows how teenagers, parents, and teachers can learn from each other. The authors present practical guidelines that will facilitate mutual understanding and make a difference in the way the three groups see and approach each other.

In brief, the authors:

- stimulate parent and teenage audiences to discuss relevant issues
- show viewers how to carry on meaningful dialogues

The three segments cover the following titles:

The World of Teenagers

The World of Parents

by Craig McNair Wilson
High School/Adult

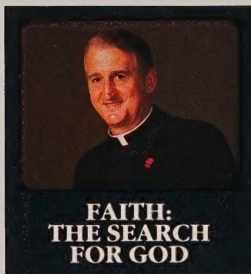

Actor-author-humorist Craig McNair Wilson delivers a moving and memorable portrait of the humanity and personality of Jesus.

In looking at Jesus through a contemporary counterpart named Howard, Wilson reenacts scenes from the gospels, using only an empty trunk and a broom as props. At once funny, sad, entertaining, and enlightening, Wilson's view of the gospels is a solid affirmation of faith in today's world.

SEE AND HEAR JOHN POWELL PROCLAIM THE CHRISTIAN MESSAGE

by John Powell, S.J.

High School/Adult

What Viewers Say:

"John Powell inspires a lot of confidence and provides a chance to probe relationships at some depth."

"The John Powell programs have quite an effect... people like sharing ideas which are pertinent to their spiritual lives."

With his own special warmth, humor, and charming self-disclosure, Father Powell tells us that God is not too hard to believe, but almost too good to believe.

This upbeat series offers a beautiful approach to listening as well as speaking to God. Powell suggests ways to deepen faith: by getting in touch with our prejudices, by keeping scripture close to heart, by becoming fully alive, and by going beyond ourselves in loving.

Powell concludes the series by posing the question: Do we really want to be close to God? He responds to that question by offering a beautiful approach to prayer that includes both listening as well as speaking to God.

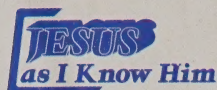

Titles of the five 30-minute segments are:

- Faith: The God Connection
- Faith: A Comfort and Challenge
- Faith: God's Gift
- Faith: A New Vision
- Faith: A Prelude to Prayer

"This is an excellent book connecting serious lessons in Christianity with the humor that really does accompany living with the Lord."

Marvin Phillips

Through a masterful blend of humor, inspiration, and instruction, Phipps gives us a refreshing approach to everyday Christianity. A COMPELLING FILMSTRIP SERIES ABOUT THE GOD WHO CREATED US, TEACHES US, AND GUIDES US

by Donald Senior

Jr./Sr. High School/Adult

"A moving and beautiful weaving together of art, music, and insightful scriptural reflections."

GOD THE FATHER

It's important for Christians to see God as a personal God who reaches out to his people, is faithful to them, and expects them to respond. These three new filmstrips reveal the many facets of the biblical God, inviting viewers to reflect on the many ways God's care breaks into their lives.

GOD THE SON

This series offers a compelling portrait of the dramatic life of Jesus: his mission, his crucifixion and resurrection, and his call for discipleship, and how these have meaning for contemporary Christians.

GOD THE SPIRIT

The gift of the Spirit is Jesus' legacy to us all. In this series, we explore what the Bible has to say about the Spirit, and examine contemporary examples of Spirit-filled lives.

HOW DO YOU SEE LIFE— AS A PROBLEM OR AN ADVENTURE?

Here is John Powell at his best—questioning, teaching, and affirming to us that we shape our own attitudes in viewing life either as a problem to be endured, or an adventure to be enjoyed.

In his newest book Powell explores the person and vision of Jesus and offers his insights into the gospel as the "good news" it was intended to be.

Powell's message is that true happiness and fulfillment are the result of healthy, happy attitudes. He leads his readers through a series of thought-provoking questions into an acceptance of a master vision designed to bring us that happiness and fulfillment.

COME FOLLOW ME

By Brennan Hill

AVAILABLE MAY 1984

A NEW APPROACH FOR A NEW GENERATION

Here's an opportunity to set textbooks aside and try an exciting new approach in encouraging young people to follow Jesus! Instead of reading chapters in a book, students read six thought-provoking essays, each printed on the back of a different poster.

This unique poster course features a class pack of fifteen copies of each of six 14" x 21" posters. Each poster has a full-color photograph and thoughtful caption printed on one side, with an essay printed on the reverse.

The six themes and the objectives they teach are:

Self-esteem—demonstrates that each person is valuable and lovable, especially where Jesus is concerned.

Church community—reveals the friendship and genuine sense of community that is such an important part of church life.

Gospel message—examines the teachings of Jesus in order to find meaning for today's life.

Prayer—provides guidelines for speaking with and listening to the Lord in prayer.

Celebration—encourages participation in prayer and worship with others in the church community.

Service—encourages individuals to use their special gifts and talents to serve others.

CALLED TOGETHER:

Teen Motivation for Liturgy

by Gregory Dues

Jr./Sr. High

"But why do I have to go to church?" A parent or teacher's answer to that often-heard youthful lament is usually brief and to-the-point, inviting no further discussion.

This new poster kit suggests better answers to that persistent question. It offers young people good reasons to go to church regularly, even enthusiastically.

Called Together contains materials for five two-hour sessions. Included are:

- a suggested plan for conducting each lesson
- a resource essay to initiate thought-provoking discussion
- five full-color posters to further serve as springboards to discussion
- ten reproducible worksheets

"If going to church on Sunday is meant to be an important experience for youngsters (rather than a fearful law to be kept), then they must have the opportunity to talk about it, ask questions about it, express their good and bad feelings. Called Together does precisely that, and does it well."

In the unit God the Father, we see God's loving presence in the lives of the Israelites, a presence that became Jesus' heritage and the basis for his prayer.

We hear God speak through Jesus' life and mission in the unit God the Son, with Jesus' victory over death speaking most eloquently of all.

ARGUS POSTER KITS: A UNIQUE APPROACH TO ENRICH AND EXPAND YOUR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION TEXTBOOK THEMES

A WORD FROM THE PUBLISHER

Young people are bombarded with sensations at every turn these days: the drumbeat of rock 'n' roll, the constant voice of TV, the flash and dazzle of video. That means it takes something very special to attract their attention.

And Argus has something special to catch—and keep—your students' attention: Argus posters and poster kits! Young people really identify with posters. They dig into their own pockets to buy them, they decorate their rooms with them, and they spend time selecting sentiments and sayings that reflect their feelings.

Teachers who have used Argus posters and poster kits in their classrooms have reported great success: increased student enthusiasm, lively discussions, and, most important of all, learning that lasts long after lessons are completed.

What's more, Argus posters and poster kits relate the themes in your religious education textbooks to what students are experiencing in their everyday lives. Posters are a visual, exciting, challenging way to encourage students to think, then act, on important issues.

The correlation chart on page 4 identifies the major themes presented in various religion textbooks and the Argus poster kits designed specifically for each grade level.

Poster course by Brennan Hill

Here's an attention-getting approach for attracting young people to the Christian way of life: a poster course. Rather than reading a textbook, students read the essays printed on the backs of six posters.

The eye-catching 14" x 21" posters, which students take home after class, revolve around six themes, each teaching an objective such as using our talents to serve others. The essays are lively and interesting, written precisely for young adults and based on real-life situations.

Each classroom pack contains handout posters for 15 students. The teacher guide contains discussion questions, scripture references, ideas for journal writing, suggested activities, and a list of film and print resources.

YOUTH MINISTRY ALIVE: It Can Happen in Your Church

John Roberto and Brian Reynolds

John Roberto and Brian Reynolds are co-directors of the Northeast Center for Youth Ministry in Paterson, New Jersey. Since its founding in 1978 the Center has successfully provided training, consulting, and resourcing services to churches of all major denominations. Youth Ministry Alive is a direct outgrowth of many years of national experience. It is a complete training program that can be scheduled in six two-hour sessions. Included with it are 30 reproducible print activities for staff planning and training.

It's important that we in ministry provide young people with a sense of security—a place where they belong. The climate of security will allow us to challenge them.

Segment 1: What Is Youth Ministry?

A strong, effective youth ministry not only involves young people in the life of the Christian community, but fosters their personal and spiritual growth as well. In this opening segment Roberto and Reynolds set forth the purpose, scope, and goals for such a program. To insure the program's success, these vital roles must be filled: Coordinator, DRE/DCE, Program Director, Planning Team, Youth Leaders, and Peer Ministers. The speakers detail the responsibilities these people must assume and describe how to fulfill them. Five areas of an effective youth ministry program are detailed:

- Christian religious education
- Community life
- Justice, peace, and service
- Guidance
- Prayer and worship

Young people need to know how special it is to lift their lives to God.

Segment 2: Who Are Young People?

As they enter the crucial stages of adolescent growth and change, young people ages 11 to 16 seek their identities within a group of peers. The opposite is true of older adolescents who, from ages 16 to 22, are moving away from groups to seek their own individuality. Effective leaders must be fully aware of the problems and concerns that are important and unique to each group. Explaining that a strong support community within the church is more necessary today than ever before, the speakers show youth leaders how to help adolescents by listening, affirming, sharing their own experiences, asking the right questions, and teaching them how to reflect.

Segment 3: How Do You Plan a Youth Ministry?

Here are effective "how-to's," the necessary steps and practical strategies for building a strong youth ministry. Roberto and Reynolds tell viewers they must:

- Examine previous youth ministry efforts
- Conduct a needs assessment
- Brainstorm
- Set priorities
- Develop programs
- Assign responsibilities
- Create an organizational structure.

Youth ministry is the work of the whole community.

The speakers stress that emphasis should be put on creative planning and on teamwork between adults and youths.

Segment 4: How Do You Develop Leaders for Youth Ministry?

Recognizing that recruiting and training leaders is one of the toughest jobs in ministry, Roberto and Reynolds assure viewers that this can be one of the most rewarding of jobs if it is done well. They suggest a four-step approach:

- Developing leadership positions
- Recruiting leaders
- Training leaders
- Supporting leaders.

The speakers offer a variety of suggestions on effective recruiting, including tips on writing job descriptions, bulletin notices, brochures and posters, and instruction in making oral presentations.

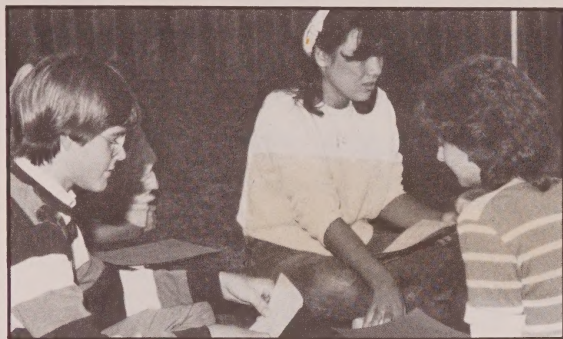

This segment also offers two approaches to leader training. One method is to involve leaders in immediate but limited activity, an approach that often dispels fears and allows new leaders to get acquainted with young people right away. The second method begins with pre-service training that stresses basics and builds a foundation for further, in-depth training.

In recruiting leaders, emphasize the benefits that people will gain by being involved in youth ministry.

Pointing out that many churches fail to encourage leaders after they have begun service, the speakers emphasize the importance of supporting staff members with recognition and continued training and suggest ways to do this.

Segment 5: How Do You Design Programs?

This segment is the heart of the Youth Ministry Alive program. Viewers will learn how to design programs in religious education, service, spiritual life, fellowship and worship.

Effective youth ministry allows people to choose what they will participate in.

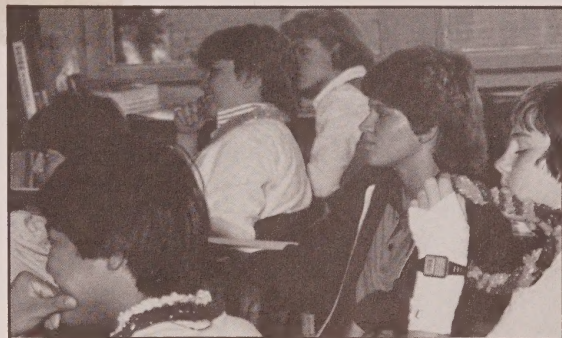

Roberto and Reynolds suggest that youth ministry activities should offer young people variety and choice, and should also be creative, seasonally appropriate, and different from other youth activities that young people may be involved in.

Because peer relationships are so important in an adolescent's life, the speakers treat the advantages of peer ministry in this segment. They describe simple steps for starting a youth peer ministry, which, in some instances, can be more effective than any other kind.

Segment 6: How Do You Put It All Together?

The final segment wraps up a complete training package for your youth ministry team. To help leaders maintain an active ministry, Roberto and Reynolds show how to set up and manage a four-month calendar of activities offering balance, variety, and choice.

The speakers offer the choice of two organizational structures to ensure long-term program success. The first is with a Youth Ministry Council whose members will be responsible for all the activities in each of the five areas described in Segment 1. The second is by way of a Leadership Committee that will delegate responsibility for just one area to each of five smaller committees.

The key in scheduling options is to feel free to be creative and to adjust the schedule to young people.

The speakers close by stressing that with either organizational structure, it is vital that leadership decisions be made by youths and adults acting together.

P422 Attack Beware — attack cat on premises.

One night a man had a dream. He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the LORD. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene, he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand: one belonging to him, and the other to the LORD.

When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times in his life.

This really bothered him and he questioned the LORD about it. "LORD, you said that once I decided to follow you, you'd walk with me all the way. But I have noticed that during the most troublesome times in my life, there is only one set of footprints. I don't understand why when I needed you most you would leave me."

The LORD replied, "My son, My precious child, I love you and I would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you."
